Jane is a specialist in divorce and matrimonial finance. She joined chambers in 2018, bringing with her a wealth of experience in all areas of family law gained over 20 years providing expert advice and representation to clients dealing with divorce and relationship breakdown.

She now specialises in financial remedies for divorcing spouses, dealing with complex cases involving high net worth individuals, family businesses and pensions. Jane also has experience and a good understanding of the difficulties of small to medium net worth cases and is sensitive to the issues when money is tight.

She can advise and give practical help if you wish to take steps to protect your assets prior to marriage or purchasing a property with your partner.

Having spent a number of years practising at the employed bar, her period as an in-house barrister gave her an excellent understanding of solicitors' needs, enabling her to work particularly effectively with them and their clients.

She is very aware of the process that her clients will be going through personally; in particular, in high conflict cases, and can provide advice and support in these scenarios. Due to the complex nature of the assets involved in many of her cases, including business holdings and investments, Jane's clients also frequently find her understanding of the more commercial aspects of legal work to be reassuring.

Jane is a clear thinker and brings an objective view to a case together with the attention to detail and communication skills needed to successfully represent her clients in and outside of court. She takes a pragmatic approach to help avoid a protracted dispute and reach an agreement quickly.

When this is not possible, she has a proven track record of being a strong advocate in court, prepared to fight her clients' corner when necessary.

Jane is also direct access qualified and can work directly with clients. With her wealth of experience, she is fully aware of what the day-to-day management of your case involves and can provide as much guidance and support as needed.
